ATTACHMENT 3: INDUSTRY AND OCCUPATION CODES

This attachment contains the following three sets of coding schemes:

1970 Census 3-Digit Industry and Occupation Codes.

All occupations and industries (except military occupational specialties) are coded with 1970 codes. This is the main set of codes.

1980 Census 3-Digit Industry and Occupation Codes.

Beginning with the 1982 survey the respondent's current or last job is coded with the 1980 codes in addition to the 1970 codes.

1977 Department of Defense 3-Digit Enlisted Occupational Classification System.

All military occupational specialties collected in the military section are coded with this scheme.

- 000 = None
- 590 = Current member of armed forces
- 990 = Same as present job
- 995 = Never worked/Did not work during that period

1980 CENSUS OF POPULATION: INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM

Equivalent numeric codes follow the alphabetic codes. Either code may be used, depending on the processing method. Numbers in parentheses following the industry categories are the 1977 Standard Industrial Classification definitions. The abbreviation “pt” means “part” and “n.e.c.” means “not elsewhere classified.”

HEALTH CODES

GENERAL INFORMATION ON HEALTH CODES

The health section of the NLS survey elicits health problems that limit the amount or kind of work the respondent can do. Those health problems are coded using a modified version of the International Classification of Diseases (ICD-9) codes taken from the World Health Organization, International Classification of Diseases, Ninth Revision, 2 vols., WHO, Geneva, 1977 (vol. 1) and 1978 (vol. 2).

The health consolidation code represents the most complete description possible of the respondent's main cause of limitation in work gathered from a reading of the whole health section. It is coded using the modified ICD-9 codes after the rest of the health section has been coded. The health consolidation code, thus, represents the current (proximal) description of the respondent's main cause of limitation in work, and not an underlying cause (remote) preceding the current complaint.

The NLS health codes correspond to the ICD-9 codes with the decimal point deleted, except for the supplemental V, E, and M ICD-9 codes. The supplemental ICD-9 codes were modified by dropping the alpha code and adding the remaining numeric portion of the supplemental codes to a 5-digit number. The following is the numeric conversion for the supplemental codes: V codes = 10000+, E codes = 11000+, and M codes = 12000+. (Zero (0) means no health problem). The changes were necessary because alphas are not used as variable values in the NLS data.

A consolidated list of the modified ICD-9 and the supplemental codes and the medical terms associated with them is attached. For more detail, see the International Classification of Diseases, Ninth Revision. Also included is a list of numeric codes for the body parts that are affected by health problems; these codes were developed by NORC for the 1979-1981 health sections.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR STATES AND OUTLYING AREAS OF THE UNITED STATES

1. Name of Standard. States and Outlying Areas of the United States.

2. Category of Standard. Federal General Data Standard, Representations and Codes.

3. Explanation. This standard provides names, abbreviations and codes for representing the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the outlying areas, all of which are considered to be “first order subdivisions” of the United States.

4. Qualifications. In the application of this standard, any of the three forms of representation (i.e., names, abbreviations, or codes) may be used to represent those data elements having values (data items) of States or outlying areas of the United States. Names and abbreviations are preferred when human considerations and input reliability are important. The two character numeric code may be used in those applications where machine and numeric sorting considerations are more important, since a sort on the numeric code arranges the States in alphabetical sequence. The codes from FIPS 10, Countries, Dependencies, and Areas of Special Sovereignty, are listed in this standard for the outlying areas of the United States. The form of representation used (i.e., names, abbreviations, or codes) should be identified in format descriptions when data are interchanged.

5. Special Information. Changes in this revision of the standard are noted by an asterisk in the left margin. Also the number of changes which have occurred to an item since its original publication is noted by a superscript character following the code. All changes are explained by footnotes.

6. Specifications.
